Red Chillies:

Indian Dry Red Chilli, valued worldwide for its pungent flavor and bright red color, is a key export spice. We are a leading Indian supplier and exporter, ensuring premium quality sourced from major growing regions. We offer varieties like S17 Teja, S18 Armour, S4 Sannam, Wonder Hot, Super-hot, Byadagi, S15 Mahi, and Mundu.

Groundnuts:

Known for their rich, nutty flavor and smooth texture, are widely used in sauces, spreads, snacks, and baked goods. With over three decades of expertise, we are trusted exporter delivering premium-quality groundnuts to domestic and global markets. We source varieties like Karnataka Java, AP JL, TN JL, Gujarat Java, Gujarat TJ, and Gujarat BOLD from key growing states in India.

Cumin Seeds:

We are dedicated to delivering high-quality cumin seeds to our clients at the most competitive prices, and our stringent quality standards have established us as one of India's leading exporters, manufacturers, and suppliers of cumin seeds.

Coriander Seeds:

Coriander seeds are among the oldest and most widely used spices in the world, cherished for their sweet, citrusy flavor that enhances everything from curries and pickles to marinades and spice blends. More than just a seasoning, they bring a touch of tradition and aroma to global cuisines. We take pride in sourcing and exporting the finest coriander seeds, ensuring freshness, purity, and quality with every shipment.

Chickpeas:

Chickpeas, a versatile legume enjoyed worldwide, come mainly in two varieties: Desi and Kabuli. They are classified by shape, thickness, size, and color, which can range from light tan to dark black. While Desi chickpeas are smaller and darker, Kabuli chickpeas are larger, smoother, and lighter in color, making them especially popular in international cuisines.

Sesame Seeds:

Sesame seeds, valued for their nutty flavor and crunchy texture, are a nutrient-rich ingredient used worldwide. We are one of India's prominent exporters, committed to delivering premium-quality sesame seed products at competitive prices, and our range includes black sesame seeds, hulled sesame seeds, and natural sesame seeds.

Fennel Seeds:

We offer premium-quality fennel seeds, small and oval-shaped, known for their distinct sweet licorice flavor and strong aroma that make them a prized ingredient in global cuisines. We ensure they add refreshing taste and traditional depth to soups, stews, curries, baked goods, and beverages, delivering freshness and quality with every supply.

Fenugreek Seeds:

We provide high-quality fenugreek seeds, a versatile spice widely used in Indian, Middle Eastern, and North African cuisines. Valued as an herb (dried or fresh leaves), spice (seeds), and even as a vegetable (fresh leaves, sprouts, and microgreens), we ensure our fenugreek delivers authentic flavor, freshness, and nutritional benefits to every dish.

Basil Seeds:

Basil seeds are a popular ingredient in many Indian drinks and desserts, valued for their unique texture and refreshing quality. These tiny black seeds, derived from the basil plant, are gaining global recognition for their culinary and health benefits, and we ensure only the finest quality reaches our clients.

Raisins:

Raisins are dried grapes cherished for their natural sweetness and chewy texture, making them a versatile ingredient in snacks, desserts, and savory dishes. They range in color from light golden to dark brown or black, depending on the grape variety and drying process, and we ensure our raisins are sourced and delivered with the highest standards of quality.

Turmeric:

Indian Turmeric is one of the most renowned and widely researched Ayurvedic spices, celebrated globally for its flavor, color, and health benefits. With its warm, slightly bitter taste, it is commonly used to enhance and color curry powders, mustards, butters, and cheeses, and we take pride in supplying premium-quality turmeric to meet global demands.

Cardamom:

Known as the "Queen of Spices," cardamom is prized for its intensely aromatic, sweet, and slightly spicy flavor that enriches both sweet and savory dishes. It is a staple in Indian and Middle Eastern cuisines, widely used in curries, desserts, teas, and spice blends such as garam masala. Beyond its culinary appeal, cardamom is valued for its digestive and medicinal properties, making it a highly sought-after spice globally. We source and export premium-quality cardamom, ensuring freshness, strong aroma, and consistent quality to meet the demands of international markets.
